

A Michigan Works! Agency

Take the first step to your career in... ENVIRONMENTAL SERVICES

The City of Detroit of Buildings, Safety Engineering and Environmental Department (BSEED) has received an Environmental Workforce and Job Training Grant through the United States Environmental Protection Agency. Through this grant, BSEED is working collaboratively with Detroit Employment Solutions Corporation to bring the Detroit Environmental Employment Program (DEEP) to Detroiters. DEEP will train Detroit residents for environmental construction jobs. Program participants will gain the skills and certifications necessary to work in the environmental field. At the end of training, participants that successfully complete the training may be matched with employers for an interview.

For more information about this training and how to apply, contact Detroit Employment Solutions Corporation
